

Crystal Jongeward
Senior Consultant, Public Affairs
CIBC Communications & Public Affairs

September 23, 2019

Protecting our clients from fraud is important to us, and we make ongoing efforts to provide resources to clients to help them protect themselves from online scams and fraud attempts. As a general rule, anyone who receives an email requesting funds should verify it verbally with the person who made the request before making payment. Funds sent by an individual to an email impersonator are very difficult to recover.